

Joining The Hunt

An exciting day for a child on their first hunt

Imagine you are a child from prehistoric times. You have not slept all night from excitement. Your big day has come. You are allowed on your very first hunt. It is nearly morning, everyone else in your settlement is asleep but not you....

Write a paragraph about how you are feeling

Are you scared? What animals will you see today?

Who else will be with you? What have you been allowed to take with you?

Think about the sounds, smells and sights
